THE STORY OF ATOMIC CAT

In September of 2016 three people met at a Steak N Shake to discuss creating a video game venture. We had the software, hardware and the know-how to proceed, but not the facility. The three people talked about what we would require to fully create our games. We spoke of 4K cinematic cameras, 4K drones, a full-featured recording studio with top-quality microphones to create voice overs and special effects. We talked about video editing for cut scenes and other productions.

Then we talked even more about a facility with a massive blue screen for special effects. We would need plenty of room for our motion capture technology to create all the behaviors necessary for our game characters to emote. We talked about the need for 2D and 3D artists in their own departments and a comfortable space to discuss projects and impress clients with the grand reveal of our work.

In November of that same year, Atomic Cat Interactive was born and a new era in video, audio and game production would begin in a quiet, unassuming area in Dade City, Florida.

VIDEO PRODUCTION

If you are in need of a video production, such as a commercial, training video series, product videos, etc, we've got you covered. We shoot in 4K and have every kind of camera you can think of. Our 1,700 sq. ft. production room is complete with a massive blue screen with stage big enough to drive a Hummer on. We can add any kind of keys, graphics, chromakey and more.

AUDIO PRODUCTION

Our audio production suite is full-featured and state-of-the-art. We employ legendary microphones used by the largest studios, digital audio recorders and direct to computer recording with unlimited tracks. All the virtual effects and instruments you'd ever need as well as mobile field recording solutions.
